The problems of the language personality form the core of the anthropocentric paradigm, which defines the face of modern philological science. The phenomenon of language personality is an important factor in social, psychological, cultural and intercultural interaction of people.

In the first chapter of the monograph, the typology of the language personality in the communicative situation of address, the specifics of the language picture of the world, manifestations of the language personality of the author and the character in the artistic discourse are considered.

The second chapter of the monograph focuses on the problems of the formation of professional and communicative skills, which are the basis of the language personality of a modern university student. The research field presents various scientific paradigms. The works were performed on the material of Ukrainian, Russian, and English languages.

The monograph is intended for a wide range of readers who are interested in the problems of language communication, language awareness and language influence, the formation of a language personality, issues of the communicative context.
