

THE TRANSFORMATION OF POST WAR UKRAINIAN AGRIBUSINESS AND CIRCULAR ECONOMY

Dr. Kakha Nadiradze

President Association for Farmers Rights Defense, AFRD

Mrs. Nana Phiromanashvili

Executive Director, Association for Farmers Rights Defense, AFRD

Ms. Tekla Nadiradze

Young Researcher

Post War Recovery of Ukrainian Economy means Transformation of the Food Systems and Farm Models and consideration of Agroecological, environmental and social impacts across all business decisions. Collecting and analyzing current data isn't enough to change an organization's core culture of Data Collecting, Aggregating and Sharing which is essential for operationalizing sustainability. To fully realize the wealth of opportunity stemming from sustainability and sustainable thinking, companies must integrate sustainability principles into every aspect of Agribusiness, Circular and Green Economy, Techno parks Development and Technology Transfer. Increasing National and International frameworks and guidance's on joint actions have a key role that can take time to understand and navigate Optimizing Ukrainian Agribusiness Companies sustainability efforts is a long and winding journey, but this progress needs to make for a significant Policy Reforms and Strategies and Action Plans. We are motivated for actionable recommendations for assessing Ukrainian Economy, Rural Development and Food Systems in sustainable way, having a multi goal setting, and building a custom-fit strategy to achieve Public, Private Partnership and organizational objectives all while strengthening Georgia-Ukrainian Agribusiness.